Right to the best.

Mark A. Drexler, Partner

Mark Drexler is a partner with the firm, whose general civil practice has a focus on representing credit unions.

Mark has over 40 years of experience, and a reputation as a distinguished legal professional whose exemplary track record and unwavering commitment make him an indispensable asset to the firm's legal team. With a career spanning four decades, his depth of expertise includes a wide range of legal matters, including creditors' rights, regulatory compliance, lending policies, secured transactions, bankruptcy issues, and real estate. Mark's meticulous attention to detail and strategic approach to problem-solving enable him to deliver comprehensive and effective legal counsel, ensuring his clients' interests are protected and their objectives are achieved.

Mark graduated with honors from the State University of New York at Buffalo, and is a graduate of Cornell Law School. Since his admission to the New York State Bar in 1980, Mark's focus has been on general civil practice, and commercial and residential real estate, with a concentration on representing credit unions.

Mark is a member of the New York State Bar Association, Monroe County Bar Association, National Creditors Bar Association and the New York State Creditors Bar Association. His dedication to staying abreast of industry trends and best practices is further evidenced by his participation in speaking engagements and seminars, where he has shared his insights and expertise with fellow legal professionals.

Mark is also a long-term supporter of the Rochester community, having served on the board of Workers Justice Center of New York and as a volunteer attorney at Just Cause (Volunteer Legal Services Project).
